Forecast For Northeast England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Wednesday 16 Jun 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Cloud thickening with increasing chance of overnight showers.

This Evening and Tonight:
Mostly dry through Wednesday evening with hazy sunshine. Becoming generally cloudy across the region overnight with an increasing chance of showers, which might turn heavy. Winds mostly light. Minimum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Thursday:
Thursday will start cool and cloudy with any remaining overnight showers clearing eastwards across the North Sea. Some brightness developing by the afternoon. Maximum temperature 20 deg C (68 deg F).

Outlook for Friday to Sunday:
Areas of rain and showers, occasionally thundery will move across the region at times, but also interspersed with dry and occasionally sunny or clear spells. Cooler than recent days.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.